What is domestic abuse?A cross-government definition of domestic abuse¹

“Any incident or pattern of incidents of controlling, coercive, threatening behaviour, violence or abuse between those aged 16 or over who are, or have been, intimate partners or family members regardless of gender and sexuality. The abuse can encompass, but is not limited to: psychological, physical, sexual, financial or emotional abuse.

Controlling behaviour is a range of acts designed to make a person subordinate and/or dependent by isolating them from sources of support, exploiting their resources and capacities for personal gain, depriving them of the means needed for independence, resistance and escape, and regulating their everyday behaviour. Coercive behaviour is: an act or a pattern of acts of assault, threats, humiliation and intimidation or other abuse that is used to harm, punish, or frighten their victim.”

GLOSSARY: a definition of key terms

Accommodation and Housing Related Support Services	Accommodation services in Derbyshire are available for those affected by domestic abuse needing to flee their home and go to a safe refuge. The refuges are available to those out of the area. Consideration will be made to those affected locally but the main priority is the safety of those supported in accommodation. Accommodation includes emergency temporary accommodation staffed by specialist support teams 365 days per year. Housing related support services are available to all male and female clients and support takes place within the home or in a safe place within the community. This is a housing related support service and can help and support with varying support needs which include but are not limited to securing safe/alternative accommodation, make the current home safer, look at refuge accommodation if needed, set up a new home, reduce any debt, access correct benefits, get into employment or education, access health care providers, obtain furniture and support with developing life skills as well as emotional support to cope with the domestic abuse. Support can be provided for up to 2 years in total.
Advocacy services	Advocacy services are those that inform, guide and help people affected by domestic abuse to access a range of support and services, and ensure their rights and entitlements are achieved. Effective advocacy services have been shown to improve access to community resources, reduce rates of intimate partner violence, improve safety, decrease depression, reduce stressors and improve children's wellbeing.
Agency/Agencies	An organisation or organisations that act as the agent, representative, or subcontractor of another organisation. For example, partner agencies such as the police, fire, social and health services who are involved with domestic abuse.
Children's Domestic Abuse Support Services	Services in Derbyshire are available to children and young people aged between 0-18 years (or 19 years if the referral is made before the 18th birthday) to lessen the impact of domestic abuse. The service aims towards four positive outcomes: increase confidence and self-esteem, improve expectations of interpersonal relationships, increase ability to keep safe, and personally grow and develop. The service is offered through individual sessions and group work. The service is time limited and offers on average of 6-8 sessions although, this can be increased to 12 if needed. The service also supports families to

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY OF HIA ON DOMESTIC ABUSE FOR SERVICE CLIENTS WHO TOOK PART IN THE FOCUS GROUP CONSULTATIONS

Domestic abuse is a significant Public Health issue because it is associated with poor health.

Derbyshire County Council purchases services which offers support to you, as affected by domestic abuse, your family members and friends, and perpetrators. The services are:

- Independent Domestic Violence Advisor, High Risk Services
- Medium Risk Outreach Services
- Children's Domestic Abuse Support Services
- Accommodation and Housing Related Support Services
- Perpetrator Programme
- Domestic Abuse Telephone Helpline

(A full description of the services can be found in section 4 of the main Health Impact Assessment document).

The Health Impact Assessment was part of the wider consultation to help define the future of service delivery. These services will be re-commissioned from April 2016.

Aim of the Health Impact Assessment

The aim of the Health Impact Assessment was to examine how current Domestic Abuse services have an effect on health and, to make recommendations on how to maximise the positive health effects and minimise the negative health effects, within the new service to be re-commissioned in April 2016.

How we organised the Health Impact Assessment

The Public Health and Community Safety departments organised a project team to oversee the practical co-ordination of the Health Impact Assessment.

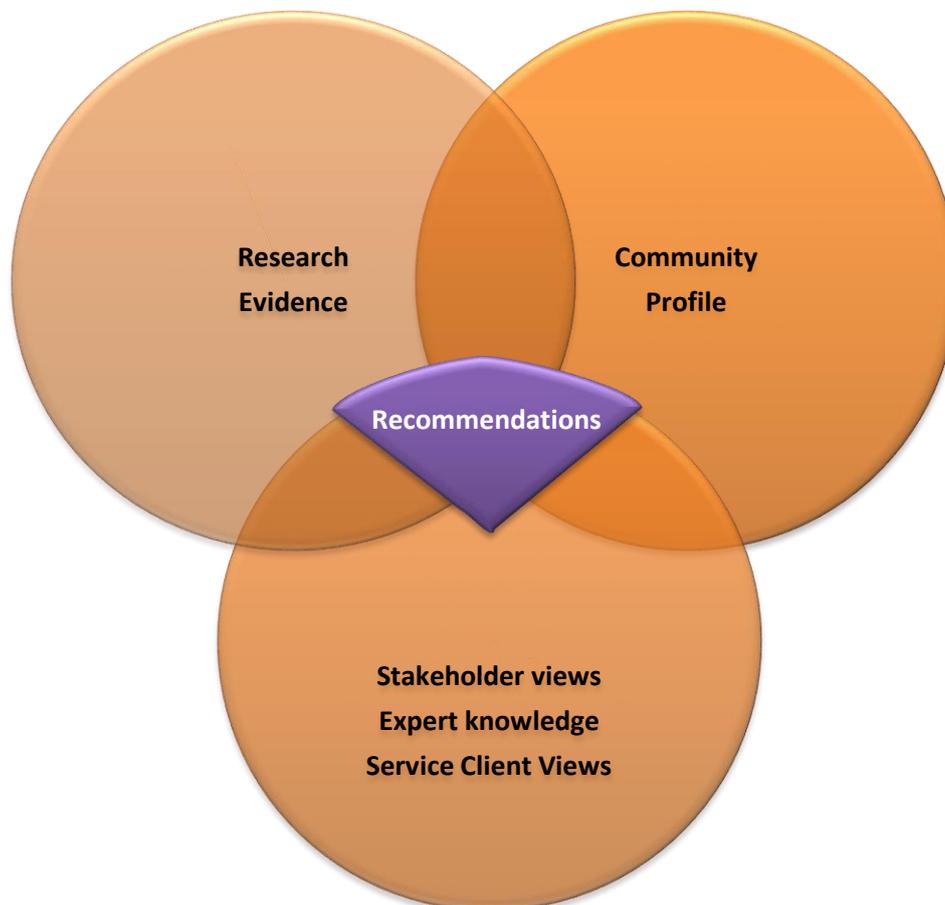

The Project team were supported by locality public health staff from across the county who assisted with the Focus Group discussions.

The Derbyshire City and County Sexual Violence and Domestic Violence Governance Board acted as the Steering Group for the Health Impact Assessment, to make recommendations.

All of the information we gathered from you and from our services, was reviewed by the Appraisal Panel. The panel was made up of volunteers from members of the Derbyshire City and County Sexual Violence and Domestic Violence Governance Board, and Public Health.

The types of information we gathered are explained in the next section.

The groups of information we gathered which helped to inform the Health Impact Assessment on Domestic Abuse Recommendations

This diagram shows the groups of information we gathered on the impact on health of domestic abuse that helped to inform Recommendations for the development and re-commissioning of services.

Population statistics informed the Community Profile; academic research papers, the Research Evidence. Your viewpoints, as Service Clients and that of Stakeholder organisations and agencies with Expert Knowledge make up the third circle of gathered information.

We also developed a questionnaire, which could be completed online.

The tables below show the number of focus groups consulted, the online survey responses, and overall total

Discussions with Focus Groups	Number of Focus Groups	Number of participants
Service clients	8	43
Professionals	6	90

Online survey and partner responses	Total Number
Public	151
Service providers	38
Partner surveys	23
Overall total	212

The Appraisal Panel examined all the information gathered from these sources.

What we discovered about Domestic Abuse

It is difficult to know to what extent domestic abuse happens in our society, as many cases go unreported. The best available information suggests that in England, approximately 1 in 4 women and 1 in 7 men experience domestic abuse within their adult lives.

A number of population groups experience higher rates of abuse; including women, young adults, the disabled, and those with a disability or long term health condition.

Key Facts for Derbyshire – Community Profile

In 2013-14 there were more than 13,000 reported cases to the police of domestic abuse incidents in Derbyshire

- This is higher than the England rate. But it is not possible to be sure whether this locally high recorded rate is due to more domestic abuse being committed or if it is because of systems of better reporting and recording procedures by the police
- In Derbyshire, the rate of reported domestic abuse crimes is higher against women (7.1 per 1,000 population) than men (2.0 per 1,000 population) (source: Derbyshire Police 2013/14 in Figure 6, p. 22)²

If you are affected by Domestic Abuse and need to talk to someone about it then please call the Domestic Abuse Telephone Helpline on: 08000 198668 This is a 24 hour service.

- In Derbyshire, the highest rate of reported domestic abuse crime for both men and women by age is 16-24 years. Girls experience higher levels of abuse than boys.
- People living in Derbyshire and affected by domestic abuse often live in geographical areas of low economic and social opportunities. Such as, for example in employment, education skills and training, health and disability, their living environment to do with housing and services.

What we discovered about the health effects of domestic abuse – Research Evidence

We looked at the Health impacts of Domestic Abuse and the health impacts of Domestic Abuse services. This next section explains what we discovered.

The Health Effects of Domestic Abuse

The information you shared with us about your experiences of the effects of domestic abuse agreed with the information identified from the wider research on domestic abuse: that as well as physical injuries, people report significant harmful effects on their sense of emotional health and well-being. And that this can result in unhealthy behaviours such as, excessive alcohol intake; poor diet, significant financial burdens and an impact on employment, education and housing, (we have added the website addresses and contact numbers of organisations on page 12 which you may find useful).

Health Effects of Domestic Abuse Services

Within academic research, studies of services which demonstrate strong evidence on the positive effects on health in people who have experienced domestic abuse are; advocacy, skill-building, counselling and therapeutic programmes. A description of each of the services mentioned here is outlined in the Glossary section.

The information we gathered from you highlighted the following services currently provided in Derbyshire, as having a positive effect on you and your family's health:

- services that supported individuals to adopt healthy behaviours
- services that provided financial education, employment and housing support
- services that helped individuals to access health, and social care support

These services were often described as helping to lessen the impact on your feelings of isolation, and of increasing your personal sense of confidence, and sense of gaining control.

If you are affected by Domestic Abuse and need to talk to someone about it then please call the Domestic Abuse Telephone Helpline on: 08000 198668 This is a 24 hour service.

Services highlighted from the consultation which demonstrate the negative effects on health from our consultations with you are:

- exposure to the drug and alcohol use of others
- inequity in access to services across the county
- limitation in the availability of accommodation; for example, for families including children
- inconsistent access to health, social care and other support services
- worsened feelings of isolation and the perceived stigma of being a domestic abuse service client

Analysis

The Appraisal Panel identified that there were positive and negative impacts on health from the point of view of:

- the people affected by domestic abuse
- their family members and friends
- the perpetrators
- the service professionals

And that there was scope for services to further reduce the negative impact on health and enhance the positive impacts reported by those groups.

Main Recommendation

The main recommendation from the Health Impact Assessment is for Derbyshire County Council to continue to provide domestic abuse services and to act upon the remainder of the recommendations to ensure services have the maximum positive impact on the health of service clients. The full list of recommendations is shown on pages 9-12.

Additional recommendations we identified for commissioners, service providers, the Derbyshire City and County Sexual Violence and Domestic Violence Governance Board, other teams within Derbyshire County Council, and other agencies, are:

- to ensure that services are provided fairly across the county and support individuals to adopt healthier lifestyles
- to provide access to support and specialist services in a way that is reliable and fair.

Adoption of the recommendations will enable domestic abuse services to have the maximum positive impact on the health of service-clients.

The full list of the 39 recommendations for commissioners of domestic abuse services can be found in Section 8, pages 56-60 of the main Health Impact Assessment of Domestic Abuse Services document, commissioned by Derbyshire County Council.
