

Productivity in Derbyshire

Derbyshire contributes towards the UK's economy

% change in output since 2006

Economic output

The 6.2% increase in the Derbyshire economy since 2014 is less than the 9.1% nationally, with East Derbyshire (10.5%) performing better than South and West Derbyshire (3.9%)

Productivity in Derbyshire has improved over the last five years, at a similar level to England

The amount of output generated by a worker per hour indicates how productive an economy is

Derbyshire

£31.30 per hour

England

£35.70 per hour

Five sectors generate nearly 64% of the county's economic output

22%

Manufacturing

14%

Wholesale and retail

13%

Real estate activities

8%

Construction

7%

Health and social care

Between 2018 and 2019 construction has seen the largest increase in value (+£113mn). However manufacturing has seen the greatest decline (-£139mn)