

Productivity in Derbyshire

Derbyshire contributes towards the UK's economy

% change in output since 1998

Economic output

The 6.2% increase in the Derbyshire economy since 2013 is less than the 11.1% nationally, with East Derbyshire (13.4%) performing better than South and West Derbyshire (2.3%)

Productivity in Derbyshire has improved over the last five years

The amount of output generated by a worker per hour indicates how productive an economy is

Derbyshire

£30.60 per hour

England

£35.60 per hour

Five sectors generate over 60% of the county's economic output

20%

Manufacturing

14%

Wholesale and retail

13%

Real estate activities

7%

Health and social care

7%

Construction

Over the last year Professional, scientific and technical activities have seen the largest increase in value (+£0.1bn). However manufacturing has seen the greatest decline (-£0.4bn)